

Car Snack Guide

WHAT TO PACK:

● Extra plates, cups and napkins

When you're eating in the car, disposable plates and cups are a must. Fill Chinet Classic® Recycled Clear Cups with snacks like chips and crackers to make sharing easier. And make sure to have extra Chinet Classic® lunch napkins on hand for any accidental spills.

● Cooler with ice

Keep drinks and refrigerated snacks, like string cheese, yogurt and fruit, cold with a small cooler within arm's reach. Pack extra water to stay hydrated for the trip.

● Snack bag

Snacks like dried fruit, popcorn, carrots, and nuts allow you and your family to stay healthy while traveling. Keep everyone happy for the entire trip with a variety of snacks including healthy, salty, and sweet options.

● Trash bags

Avoid clutter in the car with extra trash bags on hand. You'll appreciate them when you finally make it to your destination.

WHAT TO AVOID:

● Messy/sticky foods

Pastries and smoothies might sound like a good idea, but these types of foods can quickly turn into a mess! Plan ahead by serving messy foods in a Chinet Classic® 16oz bowl or Chinet Comfort® cup with a lid.

● Foods that spoil

While protein—like beef jerky—is great for a road trip, avoid proteins that can spoil if they aren't kept at the right temperature. Meats like turkey, ham and chicken don't do great in the car.

● Chocolate

Pack a sweet treat or two but skip the chocolate. Even on cooler days, it can still make a melty mess. Instead, suckers make great desserts that will entertain little travelers for a long time.
